ISHP Outstanding Safety & Health Awards 2020

The Institute of Safety and Health Practitioners (ISHP) is a not-for-profit organization established to foster and promote a better understanding and wider practices of safety and health management activities in Hong Kong. Its origins lie in the merger in July 2004 of the CityU SCOPE OSH Alumni Association and the Hong Kong Society of Safety Auditors. ISHP is one of the major organizations in Hong Kong dedicated to the promotion of safety and health management, and to the professional development of individuals involved in the safety and health profession, whether they are in the public, private or non-governmental sectors.

ISHP Outstanding Safety & Health (OSH) Awards have been established by the Executive Committee of ISHP since 2018. Following the great success of the past competition, ISHP continues to promote and encourages OSH achievements in different industries, and organizes OSH Awards 2020. The awards will be evaluated based on six criteria, including management commitment, health/safety promotion plan, health/safety measures, training and education, review of effectiveness, and innovation. Ten OSH competition categories are set:
